

More choices for financing your farm.

Long-term fixed rate loans are an essential tool for managing your farming expenses. When you know the amount of interest you will be paying on your real estate debt—and you've locked in your best rate for the future—there is one less variable for you to be concerned about.

Collins State Bank has a wide range of loan products, and we help you select the rate and terms that best match your financial needs. Our partnership with Farmer Mac expands the loan options and repayment terms we can offer you!
